Lifenet Releases English Version of First-Ever Lifenet Integrated Report 2026

Presenting the mid- to long-term value creation story to global stakeholders

TOKYO, September 14, 2026 – LIFENET INSURANCE COMPANY (TSE Prime 7157, President Junpei Yokozawa, URL: <https://ir.lifenet-seimei.co.jp/en/>) announces that following the publication of the Japanese version in July 2026, it has published the English version of the Lifenet Integrated Report 2026 on its website. This English version aims to help global stakeholders, including overseas shareholders and investors, gain a deeper understanding of our mid- to long-term value creation.

Lifenet has issued its first-ever integrated report, combining financial and non-financial information. Lifenet promotes its investor relations (IR) activities based on five fundamental principles articulated in its "IR Manifesto": Open communication, Comprehensible, Fair, Long-term perspective, and Innovative. The Lifenet Integrated Report is positioned as a key communication tool to embody this commitment on a global scale.

Starting from the LIFENET Manifesto, which has served as the core philosophy since our business commencement, the Lifenet Integrated Report 2026 details the growth strategy and progress of the mid-term business plan to deliver the "Ultimate Insurance Experience" from both financial and non-financial perspectives. Additionally, it highlights initiatives driving sustainable corporate value enhancement, such as service evolution through technology, co-creation with partner companies, human resources strategies adaptable to change, and a transparent governance structure.

While the Japanese version of the Lifenet Integrated Report 2026 consists of two parts (the “Main Report” and the “Data Section”), this English version provides a translation of the “Main Report”. Lifenet aims to use the English version as an opportunity to broaden open dialogue with global stakeholders and deepen their resonance with its mid- to long-term value creation story.
